0 of 0 review helpful Excellent Guide to Fish Watching By Joseph M McGee Fish watching is an excellent book I recommend it to any nature lover who thinks he or she might develop an interest in fish C Lavett Smith may have done for fish watching what Roger Tory Peterson did for bird watching He really shows the reader how to enjoy watching fish something not immediately obvious as being possible to the novice consider Who hasn't stopped along the banks of a stream to look for fish Anyone who wants to enjoy fish in their own world will want this lavishly illustrated guide to a new kind of nature study An expert whose passionate interest in fish is contagious C Lavett Smith is promoting a whole new outdoor pastime fish watching From Library Journal There are guides to watching birds Sheila Buff's Birding for Beginners LJ 6 1 93 whales Patricia Corrigan's Where the Whales Are LJ 3 15 91 and marine life David Bulluch's The Underwater Naturalist LJ 3 1 91 There is even a guide
